

Research Interests – Prof. Dr. Sascha Feuchert

Professor Feuchert holds the Ernst Ludwig Chambré Endowed Professorship for Modern German Literature with a focus on Holocaust Literature and its didactics. He is head of the Holocaust Literature Unit at the Institute of German Studies at Justus Liebig University Giessen. Professor Feuchert is primarily responsible for the conception and implementation of research projects and also coordinates cooperation with schools and extracurricular educational institutions. In addition to Holocaust Literature and its didactics, his research interests include German literature since 1945 to the present, the history and present of censorship, popular genres and their history (especially the detective novel), literary anti-Semitism, and problem areas of “forensic literary studies” (especially literary/autobiographical forgeries).
